I work as a Speech/Language Pathologist at Salem Elementary School in Morganton, NC.

- I am an ASU Mountaineer!
  (BS in Communication Disorders in ’98, MA in Communication Disorders in 2000).
- I enjoy spending time with my family.
Ashley Gause is an SLP-Assistant, working at Salem Elementary and Glen Alpine Elementary Schools in the Burke County Public School System.

Who are you?

- Speech/Language Pathologists
- SLP-Assistants
- Exceptional Children's Teachers
- Occupational Therapists
- Physical Therapists

Much of the information presented to you today will be familiar to you. My purpose in today's presentation is to be able to encourage you to use familiar information in a new, creative way.
Today's presentation:

- We will discuss what the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA) has to say about the common core and essential standards.
- We will familiarize ourselves with the common core/essential standards and will learn where to access the standards for future use.
- We will look at some examples of speech/language lessons and see how they address speech/language goals while addressing common core standards and essential standards.

- We will have a time to share how you are already targeting the Common Core and Essential Standards during speech/language therapy.
- Most of all, we're going to have fun and be creative. Speech/language therapy should be exciting for our students!

SO.....
How do we integrate knowledge of the common core and essential standards into speech/language therapy?

Why should we?
Why---

“Education is the most powerful weapon we can use to change the world.” ~Nelson Mandela

Our goal- increased access to instruction for our speech/language impaired students.

How--

• Familiarize yourself with the common core standards and essential standards for each grade level that you serve.
• Volunteer to attend some trainings that your regular education peers are attending on common core.
• Use the common core/essential standards to provide authentic opportunities to use language skills within a meaningful context.

So…

• “Begin with the end in mind.” Stephen Covey
• Think about your purpose---Increase our students’ access to the curriculum!
What does ASHA say?

SLPs can make unique contributions to CCSS (Common Core State Standards) implementation across grades K–12 for a wide range of students in general and special education; for example, SLPs can...

- help general education teachers implement CCSS with all students,
- help students who struggle with acquisition of CCSS across Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS),
- Link CCSS with assessment and instruction or intervention to ensure that students’ Individualized Education Program (IEP) goals are matched with communication needs, curriculum expectations, and classroom demands.

ASHA further states: All educators need to appreciate the role of language in academic learning and to understand the complex language requirements at the core of the CCSS.

SLPs are in an advantageous position to explain or clarify the language issues connected with the standards.
Related to expertise in language, SLPs...

- can focus on the language underpinnings of the CCSS during direct intervention with students and when we consult with teachers.

- During intervention and instruction, the SLP can help the student with a disorder as well as others having difficulty meeting CCSS.

SLPs must have or acquire:

- knowledge of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS);
- understanding of the typical developmental processes and stages of listening, speaking, reading, and writing;
- ability and desire to collaborate with other school professionals;
- understanding of the needs of students with diverse abilities and needs

Collaboration is key!

- The English Language Arts and Literacy in History/Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects standards call for shared responsibility for students' literacy development. SLPs can contribute to the CCSS for Mathematics, which has a language component (i.e., discipline-specific vocabulary and syntax) and a communication component (i.e., the language of instruction).
The Standards insist that instruction in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language be a shared responsibility within the school. The K–5 standards include expectations for reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language applicable to a range of subjects, including but not limited to ELA.

"Alone we can do so little, together we can do so much." --Helen Keller

Potential concerns:

• Do NOT use common core/essential standards as IEP goals! All students are expected to attain the Common Core/Essential Standards. If our students were successful in doing this independently, they would not have receptive/expressive language goals on their IEP!
• Pre-teach individual language skills BEFORE using your common core/essential standard integrated units. Focus on using language skills that you have already introduced to the child.

• When targeting articulation skills, these lessons are best suited for awareness of targeted sounds and generalization/carryover of those targeted sounds.

Understanding the Standards:

• Review Common Core Standards in English/Language Arts and the Essential Standards in Science and Social Studies for differing grade levels.
• Perry Flynn has an excellent summary of the standards on his website. (This is in your handout packet!)
• North Carolina’s Standard Course of Study consists of the Common Core State Standards in English language arts and mathematics and the North Carolina Essential Standards in all other subjects, including social studies, the arts, healthful living, career and technical education, and world languages.

Let’s get Skilled!

• Skilled interventions are key in insuring that our intervention meets criteria for billing. We deliver our instruction by using and then documenting skilled interventions used. This is what distinguishes between skilled therapeutic intervention and classroom instruction.

• Plans of care define skilled interventions appropriate for each student.
Group Participation:

• Let’s look at CCSS for First Grade ELA in Speaking and Listening. Which standards would be important to address during speech/language therapy?

• What about First Grade ELA in Language?

• What about First Grade ELA in Informational Text?

• What skilled interventions would you utilize to target these standards?

Don’t forget about math!

• Language impaired students may require support in math vocabulary and language concepts present in math.

• DPI provides a math vocabulary resource for all grade levels on their Wiki.

Therapy Session Examples

• Let’s have some fun. Speech/language therapy should be exciting!

• “Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire.” William Butler Yeats
Animals and Habitats

- Animal habitat video [youtube]
- The Nature Conservancy offers photographs and facts about animals, organized by category (mammals, fish, birds, etc).
- Visit live webcams at the San Diego Zoo or The National Zoo via virtual field trip!
- Webber photo animal cards or animal manipulatives can be used to label animals and also to divide animals into various categories (farm, pets, zoo)

Students illustrate various habitats, then add animal manipulatives to those habitats.

Animals and Habitats

speech/language skills targeted: vocabulary skills, categorization skills (river, ocean, forest, farm animals, birds, insects, mammals, reptiles, etc), use adjectives to describe the animals/habitats (salty, marshy, fuzzy, shiny, etc), answering of “where/what/why”questions (where does ______ live?, what animals live in the ______?, Why does the beaver make a dam?), compare/contrast (compare/contrast animals or habitats—how are the ocean and river habitats different).

Science Essential Standards targeted-

- Kindergarten—compare characteristics of animals that make them alike and different from other animals and nonliving things.
- 1st grade—understand characteristics of various environments and behaviors of humans that enable plants and animals to survive.

Animals and Habitats

Common Core Standards targeted—

Reading
- ask/answer “wh” questions (K, 1, 2).
- kindergarten—ask/answer questions about unknown words.

Speaking and Listening
- Participate in collaborative conversations (K, 1,2)
- Ask/answer questions about key details (1, 2)
IEP goals, Common Core and Essential Standards are all targeted together. When you are planning your speech/language lessons, don’t be overwhelmed by incorporating essential standards. As you become more familiar with the standards, you will realize that you are often targeting the standards without realizing it.

The goal: review the standards for the grade levels you serve!

“Start by doing what’s necessary; then do what’s possible; and suddenly you are doing the impossible.”
Francis of Assisi

Solar System

• Visit planets, their moons, comets and the asteroid belt at NASA Spaceplace.

I was able to access free, high-quality visuals from NASA to enhance our study of the solar system.
IEP goals targeted:
• compare/contrast (planets, satellite vs. telescope, comet vs. planet)
• Categories—list 3 planets, 3 items in the solar system, 3 things that an astronaut does
• Ask and answer "Wh" questions
• Identify or state the main idea of a text
• problem/solution—problems that an astronaut would face if visiting another planet? What would be needed to address these problems?

Solar System
Science Essential Standards Targeted:
• Kindergarten—understand change and observable weather patterns that occur from day to day and throughout the year. (Earth portion of NASA space place)
• 1st grade—recognize the features and patterns of the earth/moon/sun system as observed from Earth.
• 2nd grade—understand patterns of weather and factors that effect weather.
• 3rd grade—recognize the major components and patterns observed in the earth/moon/sun system.
• 4th grade—explain the causes of day and night and the phases of the moon.

Solar System
Common Core ELA Standards addressed:
• Kindergarten—sort common objects into categories, ask/answer questions about unknown words in context.
• 1st grade—compare/contrast; similarities and differences, ask for clarification when needed.
• 2nd grade—formulate “wh” questions, ask/answer “wh” questions to demonstrate understanding of key details.
• 3rd grade—comparative/superlative adjectives and adverbs (far, farther, farthest). Determine the main idea of the text, recount important events and explain how they support the main idea.

• 4th grade—paraphrase information presented orally, report on a topic, using appropriate facts.

• 5th grade—report on a topic, sequencing ideas logically and using appropriate facts and relevant details to support main ideas or themes.

Thanksgiving at Plimoth Plantation

• Visit Plimoth Plantation, the Mayflower and Wampanog Village

IEP goals targeted:

• Ask/answer “wh” questions
• Compare/contrast the Pilgrims with the Wampanog (homes, clothing, food)
• Problem/solution (what difficulties did the Pilgrims experience in the New World? How did they solve these problems?)
• Categorization skills: (list 3 foods that the Pilgrims ate, 3 items found in a Wampanog home)

Thanksgiving at Plimoth Plantation

Social studies essential standards targeted:

Kindergarten—

• Use geographic representations/terms to describe surroundings (find Plymouth, MA on US map).
• understand the interaction between humans/environment.
• understand how individuals are the same/different.

1st grade—

• use geographic representations, terms and technologies to process information from a spatial perspective.
• understand the diversity of people in the local community.
2nd grade—understand how various sources provide information about the past.
--use geographic representations, terms and technology to process information from a spatial perspective.
--understand the roles/responsibilities of citizens.
--understand how various cultures influence communities.

3rd grade—understand how events, individuals and ideas have influenced the history of local and regional communities.

5th grade—analyze the chronology of key events in the United States.

Local Community

• Create a community map—each child illustrates a specific place in the local community, then paste the maps together to create the street where your school is located. Use a toy car and give oral directions on how to get from location to location.

This is a portion of a map of Salem Road. You can view a portion of the road, our school, the gym, fire department, church and cemetery.
Students can also draw a map of a smaller area, such as their classroom, the playground, or their bedroom and describe it using prepositions.

Local Community

- IEP goals targeted:
  - Use prepositions appropriately.
  - Give oral directions on how to get to a location.
  - Use complete sentences.

- Social Studies Essential Standards targeted:
  - Kindergarten—use geographic representations and terms to describe surroundings.
  - 1st grade/2nd grade—use geographic representations, terms and technologies to process information from a spatial perspective.

Local Community

- Language Standards targeted:
