

Occupational Preparation IV

Employment Preparation IV Math

Content Focus: Employability Skills, Self-Awareness, Self-Determination, Self-Advocacy, Technology, Employment Applied Math, Health and Safety, Career Development and Planning, and Personal Management

Purpose: This course is designed to teach students skills and promote success in the areas of postsecondary education, employment, and independent living. Instructional emphasis will be placed on the application and generalization of skills to post school environments. The Six Employability Skills adopted by NCDPI have been embedded within the competency goals and objectives throughout the course.

Occupational Preparation courses should be taught in sequential order as the content is designed to help the student build their skills and increase their depth of knowledge levels over the grades 9-12.

Students will receive direct instruction in the competency goals and objectives during class time and will be expected to apply appropriate skills within the naturally occurring setting during activities associated with school-based hours, community based hours, and paid employment hours required by the GRAD-004 policy to be completed by graduation.
